Volume 18

Number 1

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

by Bill East

Following the elections at the end of last year, the results are in. For President we have Bill East; Vice President Bill Richardson; Treasurer, Bob Prehara; Secretary, Paul Boston; Board Members, Paul Saueling, Art Triant, John Pryor. As themes for the upcoming year, we will endeavor to improve the quality of our meetings and we need to focus on encouraging new members to expand our club.

We plan to set up the modules at our meetings, alternating every other month and starting in January with the S Gauge modules and in March with the O gauge modules. Both will be up and operating at the Open Swap Meet next month at the National Guard Armory on 52nd Street in Phoenix. The themes for our January meet will be displaying the trains and other goodies you received for Christmas this year. There will also be an auction in case anybody has something they would like to sell (or donate items to the club).

With the help and direction of Beth Stange, we expect to add to the enjoyment of the Kids Club. She has been wonderful in directing this project.

Please don't forget, dues for 2009 are due now!

The Board and I will strive to make this a good year for the Grand Canyon Model Railroaders.

Happy New Year!

GCMR's effort by organizing the event. He had the church display the announcement of the event on their moving marquee along Glendale road, assured that curb signage would be available, signed up the participants, and did all the hundred little things that make this kind of event a success.

BOARD - MEETING NOTES - NOVEMBER

+ Treasurer's Report: (In Round Numbers)
 Savings $ 1199' Checking $ 700

+ Secretary's Report: Paul Boston, 49 Members Currently Active.

+ GCMR is in discussion about producing a club car. It would be a Lionel car. Discussion of what the text and logo should be, and how to proceed.

Motion by Tom Stange to allow the directors to pursue the club car and bring back the results to the membership in January without committing any club funds. Approved

+ Funds produced by club activities have been very limited. The annual raffle produced $65 for the year.

+ Art Triant proposed that we have a development committee to design and produce some trackside device.

+ Beat the Heat bus rate for kids will be half that of adults.

A couple of your friendly hosts

Thanks also go to each of the members who set up their trains, talked to the public, provided snacks for our visitors, answered questions, and in general enjoyed sharing the Christmas spirit with kids of all ages. It was truly rewarding to be able to share our hobby with others and see the joy that trains bring.

Let's do it again next year! Thanks John!

HOLIDAY PARTY 2008

by Katie Elgar

The 2008 Holiday Party was once again a wonderful event. It was held Sunday, December 7, at the Marriott Hotel in Mesa. There was a fun "meet and greet time" before the lunch as well as time to look over the raffle prizes. The excellent buffet table was again well stocked, including chicken and a carving station for prime rib. The dessert table had excellent choices, too!

Lining up for the banquet goodies

Santa left gift bags for the young ones and the Lenox ornaments and antique cars for members were aplenty. GCMR President Bill East announced the winners of this year's election. Look elsewhere in the newsletter for details on that information.

Chris Allen displaying a centerpiece to be auctioned while Laurel decides whether to try to keep it at their table.

Jim and Kay Vokac, Desert Division members, made a wonderful donation to the event of retired Department 56 buildings, which were beautifully displayed in baskets. Peter Atonna once again was an excellent auctioneer for these and the Santa Claus centerpieces as well.

Wayne Ross caught some of the kids enjoying their goodies. The party was great fun for folks of all ages.

The 2009 Holiday Party is scheduled for Sunday, December 6, 2009 at the Marriott Hotel in Mesa. Mark the date in your 2009 calendar now so you don't miss out on this wonderful annual tradition!

HIGH CENTERED UPDATE

by Paul Boston

In a couple of articles we shared the problem of Gargraves uncoupling tracks having a high center rail that was shorting out engines by forcing the power pickup upward to contact the body and cause a short.

Well, that was at the P&P layout where the tracks are stuck down to the railbed using a black, sticky cork media used to insulate AC pipes. It works great at reducing track noise and we don't need screws, but the disadvantage is that removing the track without damage is next to impossible once the track has been in place for a while. That's what caused the P&P to resort to very elaborate, and, as it turns out, unnecessary wigglin-jigglin, pokin' and pryin'. It even stimulated Bill Rodgers to build a special router carrin' magnet wreckin' railcar. Man this hobby is FUN! Where else can you get an excuse to put a huge honkin' router on an itty bitty railcar and make smoke?

The reality is that if you have the uncoupling track in hand the fix is easy! Just turn it over and unsnap to electromagnet element, cut down whatever is too high and replace the magnet (you might have to use some glue, but at the P&P glue is our middle name). But how much fun is that? :-). No adventure, no plottin' and cogitatin', no waking up in the middle of the night with the perfect solution (that you can't remember clearly in the morning) to a problem with an easy, but inelegant, solution!

Thanks go to Peter Atonna for helping with the solution for our high center problem. Even Bill and I think we could spend our time better on other things, like animating an outhouse door, making prairie dogs pop up, rockin' a boat or making lights blink!

EL GARCES REBIRTH

The historic El Garces Harvey House hotel is now owned by the City of Needles. With the able assistance of the Friends of El Garces, a $10 million restoration project is moving forward. Alan Affeldt, who beautifully restored La Posada in Winslow, is the project manager. Anyone who's ever stayed in La Poasada knows that this is very good news indeed.

The official ground breaking ceremony for the rehabilitation project occurred on March 7, 2007. Work is currently underway to stabilize and to prepare for the construction of new guest rooms. Plans call for El Garces to include a State of California/Needles Visitor's Center, a transit center, museum and gift shop, first class hotel and fine dining restaurant.

The demolition, shear wall construction and column reinforcement, all being worked on concurrently, is nearly finished. Demolition of the upstairs walls is approximately 50 percent complete. Some walls will remain, but most exterior walls are being removed, and will be rebuilt closer to the edge of the building to allow for more interior space. A new first floor slab was being poured in October.

Daniel Lutzick, president of El Garces LLC said in May, "We're hoping to have rooms open by July of 2009. I'm hoping we're going to have the restaurant open at the same time. I think all of that's doable." For more information, go to the website for the Friends of El Garces at: www.elgarces.org.
